Associate Priest's letter

I am writing this letter during the middle of May with the lockdown still very much an all encompassing reality despite the lifting of one or two restrictions such as the opening of garden centres. We are all coping with this 'new reality' in different ways. Some of you may be dealing with this situation better than me, I do hope so.

I seem to have become a creature of habit over the last few weeks, sticking to an almost unaltered daily timetable and getting very grumpy if it gets changed. I guess this is a form of institutionalisation but it seems so alien from how I used to live my life. Others of you may not be faring so well and my prayers go out to you. All I can say is, this will not last for ever and by the time this magazine is published in June it may well be that further restrictions will have been lifted.

I am not a patient individual and I secretly envy those who are. But patience, prayer and fortitude seem to be exactly what is being asked of us all right now. And it is in prayer or meditation that many people have said to me that they have found comfort during this time. It is also notable how many people have watched the online and broadcast services that the Church of England has provided during the lockdown, even our modest offerings here in the Frome Valley Benefice have generated a following. Turning to God at times of national distress is well documented but the closure of churches has meant that people's search for faith and hope has had to have been met in new ways. Gatherings on Zoom, following services and reflections on YouTube, downloading prayers are all novel experiences but undoubtedly they are bringing those who are searching nearer to God and hopefully making them stronger in faith.

Covid 19 has brought out the worst and very best in people. Yes some people behaved selfishly to begin with but overwhelmingly we have seen good deeds, kindness, sacrifice and thoughtfulness. It would be wonderful to think that this glimpse of the 'Kingdom' will continue after we return to normal, whatever the 'new normal' proves to be. The last thing you need is another person telling you what to do, we get that every day in the Government Covid Briefing, but patience, trusting in God's love and the grace of Christ Jesus might be just as important as staying alert.

My prayers and thoughts as ever

Richard

Worship During Lockdown

During this difficult time many people may think that with the church buildings closed the worshipping life of the church is on hold. This assumption couldn't be further from the truth as the clergy have been working hard to provide worship materials each week by email, YouTube or through the post to those not online. Our Easter Day Eucharist, recorded and uploaded to YouTube has now had about 150 views and we now have a worshipping community of well over 100 people on our list. If you would like to receive these emails or items through the post please let me know, and do visit our website where all our recorded services can be found. Blessings

We can help with things like

- Shopping
- Collecting prescription medication

AND the Group will provide a telephone contact for those concerned about their safety or just needing someone to talk to. All conversations will be private. The contact won't be able to give advice but will try to guide you to the appropriate resources or agency. Shopping will be sourced as locally as possible and shortly we will be able to offer a menu of chilled ready meals provided by the Hop Pocket. Payment for deliveries can be made by cheque, cash or BACS.

– this account is checked frequently.

And log onto the Bishops Frome Village Centre Facebook page to see what's going on.

Information from Matthew Pudge at the HOP POCKET.

Total Produce, our wholesale grocery supplier, have been putting together a Community box that has a good supply of essential foods. The box costs £20. We can order these before 11am for delivery to The Hop Pocket the following day (not Sundays), usually by about 9am although that might change.

Waller butchers in Ledbury are happy to continue delivering to us twice a week, or more if needed, which means we can add in some meat if required, ideally we'd get about 3 days' notice on this.

Frozen ready meals made at the Hop Pocket are available - at the moment beef lasagne, veg lasagne, Chicken casserole, Cauli cheese, and soups

The Foodhall will remain open Tuesday to Saturday 10am to 5pm and at the moment 11am until 4pm Sunday. We of course also offer cakes, biscuits, chocolate, beer, cider, wine, gin, maybe not essential, but we all need a treat!

Orders can go straight to The Hop Pocket 01531 640 323, or through the Bishops Frome Local Support Group 01905 691 373, perhaps better if the Bishops Frome Local Support Group could take the orders for the deliveries to those who cannot leave the house, and the Hop Pocket handles those who are happy to collect. We can do payment over the phone, contactless in store and we will take cheques (we do need a name, phone number and any card guarantee details on the back) or cash.

HELP IS AT HAND

The Bishops Frome Support group is there to help anyone who is isolating or just feel like some support during these exceptional times.

- To do shopping
- To deliver Hop Pocket Community Boxes
- To collect and deliver prescriptions.
- To just have someone to chat to

The phone number to ring is:

01905 691373

The phone will be answered by

Tony and Liz Davis, Jane Wintermantle or Isabel Aitken

Although this is a Worcester Number it was the nearest code available for this dedicated line just for our local community. The phone is always manned from 09.00 to 1800 seven days a week and outside these times the phone is likely to be answered although there is a facility to leave a message.

This initiative is provided by The Bishops Frome Village Centre to help support the community and will continue for as long as it is needed. We have a core of fabulous volunteers and have a list of others who have kindly offered their services if needed. Where a service requires someone to be DBS checked the appropriate volunteer will have a current certificate.

You can be assured that we will always be available to help.

From the Bishop of Hereford

When my daughter was 16 we bought her a rabbit. We ended up mostly looking after it, and by mistake we got an extra long lived one, so we were saddled with it long after she left home! Every evening I would play out the ritual to get it (its name was Dumpling) from its run. Every evening was the same. The rabbit cowered in the corner just out of reach. I really had the rabbit's best interest at heart. There were foxes around. But for years he always treated my best efforts as cruelty. I sometimes wondered how I could help Dumpling to understand I cared about him. The answer, I concluded, would have been to become a rabbit. Dumpling could no more understand what I was doing than I can understand quantum physics.

That is a slightly frivolous start to a bigger question many people are asking. What is God doing in the midst of COVID-19? How could a loving God allow these things to happen? Christians have grappled with that question for centuries, every disaster bringing it back into focus. The cop out response is the Dumpling story. We really have no idea. The workings of the God of the universe are above our pay grade. Indeed, trying to explain why something has happened to those who've lost a loved one or a job, or suffering at home from domestic violence is rarely helpful. People sometimes say they wish the world was fair, not realising that if it was, every bad thing that happened to us would have to be our fault.

For Christians the resolution of the question is the simple phrase Good Friday. We may not be able to understand what is going on. But we hold on to the fact that Jesus becoming a human being and dying for us shows that God is intimately involved with us in it. The apostle John reflecting on Jesus said, "God so loved the world that he gave his only Son". He doesn't stand aloof from human suffering but somehow works in it to bring good out of it.

Meanwhile, the Psalms give us ample language to rage at the apparent injustice and the pain of it all. Jesus used the words himself. And perhaps in that raw honesty we can be inspired to walk with those who suffer. Our silent presence often means much more than our explanations.

Blessings

+Richard

ST. MARY'S CHURCH MUCH COWARNE

Once again it is sad to report that the ongoing Coronavirus is still causing major changes to all aspects of our lives and whilst, at the time of writing, things have begun to ease a little for most, those of us in the “elderly” and/or most vulnerable bracket are still basically confined to barracks, or at least to areas which do not involve contact with other people or situations where the virus might be picked up. For this reason the PCC have decided that it is necessary to cancel the Church Fete which was to have been held at Tanhouse Farm on July 11th. This is primarily because too many of those involved in organisation and preparation come into the above group but also because many who might attend would be reluctant or unable to do so and for obvious reasons a rainy day would certainly mean cancellation even if it had been decided to risk going ahead with the usual outside fete.

One event which we had assumed would be cancelled was, however, able to go ahead in a modified form: the annual plant sale held at the church had been planned for May 16 but with the weather in April being so warm, the plants which Marlene Hewitt had been rearing so carefully over preceding weeks were ready early and a Front-Gate Plant Sale was held at Panksbridge Farm for a week starting on May 1, with an honesty box for buyers to use and a plea to stick to social distancing. There were plenty of plants for sale and word soon got round so that, as the picture below shows, they did not remain unsold for long!

The sale raised a grand total of £426 which is an amazing result and many thanks and congratulations go to Marlene and Martin for arranging the sale and to those who came to buy.

It is hoped that we may be able to arrange another fundraising event before the year end but it will depend entirely on what happens in the next few weeks and months. Although our church building is closed we are all most appreciative of the arrangements made by Steven (using increasingly adventurous technical means) to bring us the services, prayers and readings for each week; and by Richard Allaway for the weekly Zoom meetings which he has established. On a more worldly front, those of us who are unable to shop or collect prescriptions ourselves would have been in a very different position without the help of those who are continuing to offer help with these – thank you all so much.

Keep safe, everyone, and be thankful that we are in the position of being able to enjoy the beautiful countryside around us and to walk where we are relatively safe.

Stanford Bishop

Dear All,

It's June, we are halfway through the year, the days are long and the nights short, beautiful blue skies, al-fresco cooking, enjoying the mouth-watering soft flesh of strawberries & raspberries. The hedgerows are laden with scent and bursting with wildlife, there is a celebration of colour from the Elderflowers, honey suckle, dog roses and foxgloves. The woodland becomes cool and shady as the canopy closes, listen out for the melodic birdsong of the willow warblers.

The landscape is a palette of colours, silaging continues sheep shearing is under way, hay making has begun.

Stay well everyone.

Dear All

It's been another challenging month as the country – and the world – grapples with the coronavirus. My thoughts & sympathies go out especially to those who have lost loved ones, become seriously ill themselves, or lost their livelihoods. Rebuilding after such devastating times will undoubtedly be difficult.

The coronavirus has reminded us all of what really matters – people's health and wellbeing. We've re-connected with community spirit, and appreciated the springtime birdsong. Most of all, we've been reminded daily of the extraordinary efforts of the key workers who go above and beyond to keep us safe and well.

It seems likely that we will be living with this virus for some time, and life will have to adapt in many ways – physical distancing, handwashing, face-coverings... We'll have to continue to find new ways to keep connected with each other, and keep caring for each other. That commitment to caring for each other has shown itself in a real flowering of community spirit recently. I would like to pay tribute to all the wonderful local volunteers who have stepped up to offer support to others in the local community. Thank you all! That same commitment to local people's wellbeing is what binds together the three-party alliance that's running the council. I feel proud to be part of it, working with colleagues united in one aim – to make life better for Herefordshire residents.

As part of my role on Herefordshire Council (as cabinet member for environment, economy and skills) I'm involved in discussions about how we can help the county rebuild – 'build back better'. I believe it's really important to listen to local people's views, and so I would love to hear from you about two things:

Firstly: What have the impacts of coronavirus been? These might be economic, social or environmental; short, medium or long term; positive or negative. Also: what lessons could/should we learn from the response?

Secondly: What could 'a new and better normal' look like? What should our collective priorities be as we start to rebuild? What lessons can we learn from this crisis to help us make life better for everyone in future years?

I have my own views on these questions, of course, but I would also like to know what you think. The council has done an amazing job responding to the immediate crisis – sourcing PPE, getting grants out to as many businesses as possible, housing homeless people and lots more. Over the coming months and years we will face some difficult decisions about how best to use limited resources – and we might also have some opportunities to do things differently and better.

If you have any thoughts on these things – or if you want to raise any local issues with me – please do get in touch! Thank you all, best wishes, and keep well! Ellie

Latest Diocesan News

Following a meeting yesterday, the House of Bishops has asked diocesan bishops to issue guidance on the gradual easing of restrictions on our buildings and activities whilst our church buildings need to remain closed. The following are our new permissive guidance for Hereford Diocese.

Incumbents, or rural deans where there is no incumbent, can, in consultation with their churchwardens and bearing in mind their specific location, appoint one person for each church in their benefice to enter that church building. The appointed person should be the incumbent or a licensed or authorised minister, minister with permission to officiate, churchwarden, or, where there is no churchwarden, one member of the PCC.

The appointed person should be entering the church building for any or all of the following

- Pray the daily office and/or celebrate the Eucharist on behalf of the community they serve,
- Live stream or pre-record worship,
- Ring one bell to mark prayers being said or mark events (e.g. Clap for Carers, VE day anniversary),
- Check the fabric of the building.

The church should be near to where the appointed person lives and he or she may be accompanied by members of the household with whom they are living. The door should be locked whilst they are in the building.

Consideration should be given to what cleaning will be needed to make our churches safe. Gates and door handles should be disinfected. Extra care should be taken for churches that have no running water. We expect further guidance to be issued later this week in this regard and encourage clergy to continue to check the Church of England website COVID-19 pages.

Clergy and lay leaders, especially those with underlying health problems, or who are shielding people in their household with such problems, should not feel under any obligation to do this themselves, nor should anyone be asked who is in one of the government's risk categories.

Our priority must be to act responsibly so as to safeguard ourselves and other people from infection. If you have any questions then please address them to Archdeacon Derek Chedzey or Assistant Archdeacons Stephanie Fountain or Simon Cawdell.

Please be assured that if you are content for the time being to lead worship from home, having set everything up to that end, you should feel under no obligation to switch back to the church. Likewise, it is perfectly fine to continue sharing services which are recorded or streamed by colleagues.

I hope in the coming weeks, if new COVID-19 cases and deaths continue to decline and subject to a change in Government restrictions, to offer guidance for opening our churches for parishioners and visitors to enter for private prayer. We long to open our churches for public worship and life events including funerals but I fear that is some way off. At present the restrictions relating to funerals across our diocese remain in place. We will continue to communicate via our weekly update including any changes as soon as restrictions are eased.

God's love in Jesus is unchanging but in these strange times we are called to learn new ways to proclaim the Gospel afresh in this generation.

With my very good wishes, Yours, +Richard

In the presence of Natterer's bats

With the closure of our churches, the lack of visitors has proved welcome for some of our wildlife species. A maternity colony of natterer's bats has set up home in a normally busy area of our church. Natterer's love old churches. A handy hole in the stonework leads to their roost site. I have watched them leave at dusk and return in the early hours just before dawn. ### To Let - Welsh Coastal Cottage. Sleeps 8 / 9

Situated in New Quay on the heritage coast between Cardigan and Aberystwyth.

The four bedroom house has been converted so the living area is on the first floor to take advantage of the outstanding panoramic views and has been recently refurbished. The house is situated on a quiet no through road overlooking the sandy beaches and across Cardigan Bay towards Snowdonia.

The house is ideally situated for bird watching, walking (the coastal path is at the end of the terrace road) and the beaches. You often see the local colony of bottle nose dolphins from the house windows. Boat trips for fishing or to see the dolphins and wildlife are available from the quay. Water sport hire and instruction are available in the harbour for all levels of experience.

The usual seaside amenities including pubs, restaurants, cafes, fish and chips and shops are all within 3 minute walking distance.

Available all year for weeks or short breaks. Cost per week from £350.00 to £750.00.

The Green Dragon at Bishop's Frome

It's with the deepest sadness that we have had to close the Dragon for the first time in more than 300 years.

Your pub is the heart of your community.

But it has a duty to the community, too.

And it makes sense to hunker down until this wretchedness is over.

After all, we need you back when it's all over.

And it will be over.

And then, perhaps, we'll appreciate our local pubs more than ever.

The warmth, the welcome, the craic and the crackling fires.

We'll be back better than ever – maybe with a bumper bonfire of all those surplus loo roles.

And as for our NHS angels:

Several drinks will be on the house when we re-open.

Meanwhile, stay safe.
